My Book

When I decided to write this book, I kept asking myself, “How the heck did I finally manage to do it - create a multi-million business - in my 50’s - after being stuck at $50,000 a year for so long?”

After all, I was no techy and no business genius.

In fact, I majored in Theater from the University of Colorado and I have my masters degree in Clinical Social Work. So, how does that compute to becoming a multi-millionaire? When I drilled down I realized there were seven things I did that when put together resulted in my success.

These seven things are the seven keys that I share in my business book for women
